Frequently Asked Questions

Who Requires Home Health Care Services?

Individuals of all age groups can benefit from health care. Individuals who have been recently hospitalized and require some assistance or who still require close medical supervision and they could be any age. Individuals needing assistance and education as a result of a medical condition. People who have an existing condition that requires assistance that may include that of a medical nature as well as the psychological support of friends and family.

What are the Advantages of Home Health Care?

The advantages of Home Health Care as enumerated in our website are quite significant. Recuperating in the comfort of your home is significantly less expensive than in a hospital or long-term facility. The presence of family and friends in the recovery process cannot be overemphasized as it seems to provide the comfort and familiarity required for clients to thrive.

Who Qualifies for Home Health Care?

Every client situation is evaluated on its merits. It is usually our practice to have each client accessed by a qualified professional to determine what needs if any are required by the client. Subsequently, a care plan tailored to the individual client's need is created.
